Who We Are

Career Development Institute provides New Jersey certified training that leads to careers in the Animal Welfare Field. These programs are for anyone seeking career enhancement, personal growth, or the latest skills and information related to animal welfare. The majority of our courses are delivered at colleges and police training academies.

The strength of our courses lies in the depth and experience of our instructors. Our teachers are expert practitioners in the areas that they instruct. Each course is taught by numerous experts and the opportunity is there for each student to form lasting bonds with each instructor.

The materials provided in the course are the actual presentation slides and handouts presented during each lesson. Students concentrate on the lecture rather than trying to copy down the lessons. This allows for excellent participation in each class. Each student comes away from the course with a significant learning experience and leaves the course feeling that they have been able to retain a significant amount of the information presented to them.

We provide a unique guarantee. Every student who attends our courses has a lifetime opportunity to take any part of that course of instruction whenever it is offered. This allows the student to stay current with new developments and changes without having to re-take and pay for an additional "refresher" course.
