

Miranda, Miranda, What Can We Do? Legal Aspects of Interrogation - 202

Thursday, September 29, 2016

This workshop was created by then Deputy Attorney General William J. Zaorski of the N. J. Division of Criminal Justice, now retired, to take a close look at why police in New Jersey and in America were losing important confessions in criminal cases. Mr. Zaorski has devoted his governmental career to developing and presenting criminal justice workshops for law enforcement officers. He now is Director of Police & Legal Studies, Career Development Institute, where he continues his research & development of criminal justice workshops.

This one-day workshop explores the basic requirements of the landmark decision in 1966 by the U.S. Supreme Court in Arizona v. Miranda. Mr. Zaorski discusses with the class in a non-lecture approach what the courts are saying about these important concepts and how to avoid the pitfalls that can lead to the suppression of the confession. The topics covered not only serve as a refresher of basic Fourth Amendment concepts but goes beyond the basics of what is happening in America and how they could impact on police officers in New Jersey.

The workshop discusses the following major concepts and more:

- ✓ Officer's obligation to report all statements to prosecutor
- ✓ Basic challenges to a confession
- ✓ Police liability in obtaining confessions
- ✓ Lawful interrogation techniques
- ✓ A real close look at the basic Miranda requirements of Custodial, Interrogation and waiver
- ✓ What the officer should do if suspect says he wants a lawyer?
- ✓ How long does the suspect's request for a lawyer remain in effect?
- ✓ What about volunteered statements or follow up questions or ambiguous statements?
- ✓ Questioning of juveniles
- ✓ The Sixth Amendment right to counsel
- ✓ Developing trends of Fifth Amendment issues in America and in New Jersey

The course will be held at the Somerset County Police Academy located at the Somerset County Emergency Services Training Academy 402 Roycefield Rd. behind the Somerset County South County Garage in Hillsborough, NJ. 08844 It will run from 9:00AM until 5:00PM and is offered on Thursday, September 29, 2016.
